DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 27 recites the limitation "to the side edge" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34,35 and 38-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Henke in view of Sanchez and Miles.

Henke et al. teaches a sanding block, 42, having a first surface, a second surface opposite the first surface, sandpaper, 55, coupled to the first surface, a pole mount, 24, having an axle, and a base, coupled to the second surface of the sanding block, the axle rotationally coupled to the base, and a hub, 70, the hub rotationally coupled to the axle, the hub being coupled to a pole, 72,, (fig. 4), a stop coupled to the base, the stop being configured to prevent rotation of the axle, (the two ridges on either side of the pole mount), and the base being coupled to the sanding block using at least one fastener.

Art Unit: 3723

Henke teaches all the limitations of the claims except for the sanding defining a round periphery, and the sandpaper being coupled to the first surface using a hook and loop fabric. Sanchez teaches a round sanding block, (fig. 8). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the tool of Henke with a round sanding block, in order to enhance the sanding capabilities, and since it is well known in the art to make a sanding block in a round shape. Miles teaches a sanding working surface to a sanding block using a hook and loop fabric, (abstract). It would have been further obvious to provide the tool of Henke with hook and loop means for attaching the sandpaper to the first surface, as an alternate attachment means.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 36 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 27 and 30-36 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 21 and 23-26 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 34,35 and 38-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
